	We have a web-based Bible translation in this language No Writings translation that we know of t	A translation was done, may exist in print.
tx	A translation was done, but just an extract, print only td	A digital document exists, could be online, but not all are. Some might be a mess. (tdo = we have PDF live on NCBS site) tw	A translation is on the web, in granular database form, with references hyperlinked (in most cases). NB: "twp" means that part of the work/translation is on the web.
ui	We have a user interface in this language
